Hang Neat lives with her husband and son in Chrous Chrov Pouthisal village, Cambodia. Instead of working as a rubber latex harvester, which is a common job in the village, she gathered the courage to take an entrepreneurial plunge. She availed a loan of USD 1,250 from LOLC Cambodia and utilised the funds to cultivate rubber plants. She gradually obtained two more loans amounting to USD 3,500 from LOLC Cambodia and currently she is a proud owner of a rubber farm with a monthly income of approximately USD 625. "LOLC Cambodia provided solutions for all my problems. They offer not only a suitable price, but their loans gave me sufficient funds to run and expand my business, which improved the daily lives and needs of my family," she said. Hang Neat is one example of more like her who have built their businesses from scratch with the support of LOLC's micro loans.

Daw Win Yee is engaged in traditional paddy cultivation. Every monsoon season Daw obtains funds from informal money lenders who charge high-interest rates. Due to this, a big part of profits was spent on paying interest charges. In 2019, Daw obtained an agriculture loan from LOLC Myanmar. Daw received her 1st agriculture loan amounting to 1,000,000 MMK (USD 540) and was satisfied with LOLC's agriculture loan service due to repayment terms, conditions, and interest rates. Daw continued the next loan cycle as 2nd and 3rd to cultivate paddy without any financial concern during every cultivation season. Daw Win Yee is now on the 7th loan cycle amounting to 2,500,000 MMK (USD 1,350), and she is cultivating paddy twice a year on her 12-acre land.

In 2015, Jamilah started a business by selling vegetables, but it did not last long due to her poor health condition. Jamilah's husband encouraged her to start selling meatballs in a small stall in front of her house. In 2018, she got her first financing from LOLC Ventura, Indonesia. Her business developed gradually and transformed into a mini restaurant with the local famous brand – Bakso Dongkrakch. According to her, LOLC Ventura supported her to uplift her family's living standards. Currently, she is expecting to launch another product – Nasi Uduk Dongkrak (tasty milk rice) and is looking forward to increasing business volumes. LOLC wishes to support her by providing individual financing for all her future requirements as a long-term business partner.

Browns Group

Established in 1875, the Browns Group has built a strong heritage of trust over one-and-a-half centuries together with global business partners. The legacy of Browns is tightly interwoven with the fortunes of the modern Sri Lankan economy, powering many sectors and industries.

Browns Group was an early catalyst in the plantation sector, which put Sri Lanka on the map of the global economy. As the plantation economy thrived, Browns Group expanded its business activities into engineering, transport, logistics, and commerce. Browns is the most trusted, reliable, and preferred partner of many leading global brands in heavy machinery and haulage solutions, agricultural machinery, farm and animal nutrition, power generation and storage, and many other sectors. Browns energize these sectors in partnership with leading global brands and world-class, state-of-the-art products. The Group, at every stage of its history, has provided an impetus to the local economy. Browns envisions being a diversified conglomerate excelling through the sunrise and sunshine industries with a global presence and cutting-edge technology.

Today, the Browns Group is a part of LOLC Holdings PLC, a globally diversified conglomerate.

LOLC Divi Saviya Season 01 – “To Win Life”

Conceived as a humanitarian project to provide food for underprivileged families facing the harsh challenges stemming from the economic crisis, the Divi Saviya initiative is founded on the empathy that the LOLC Group has for the citizenry. We realised the need for sustenance and support across the island, as countless families struggled to survive the hardships brought about by the rising cost of living where helpless households were unable to fulfill even the most basic needs such as food.

LOLC is driven to uplift communities from poverty; and in line with its alignment to the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the group has prioritised social and economic development of people. This business philosophy has guided and shaped the role it has undertaken to help Sri Lankan communities emerge from the challenges they are facing at this juncture.

The unique project was launched in May 2022 and focussed on distributing food rations to households that were most in need of support during this difficult time. LOLC has worked in collaboration with News First as well as government authorities- namely, the Divisional Secretariats and Grama Sevaka Niladari units- to ensure transparency in distributing food supplies to households living below the poverty line.

The initiative has thus far distributed 150,000 packs valued at $1.6Mn, supporting around 4.5 million people across the island covering all districts, communities, age groups and religions. In collaboration with News First and the Divisional Secretariats, LOLC will continue to support Sri Lanka’s most vulnerable communities to survive.

LOLC Divi Saviya Season 02 – “For the Future of the Children”

In an effort to empower the education system and support the promising future of Sri Lanka’s children, the LOLC Group proudly inaugurated Divi Saviya in February 2023. This ambitious initiative seeks to provide essential school supplies to the most deserving schools and students across the nation, fostering an environment conducive to learning and growth.

The program, aptly named “Daye Daruwange Anagathaya Wenuwen” (for the future of the children), aims to meet the yearly requirements of school children from grades 1 to 13, including exercise books, school bags, pens, pencils, color boxes, mathematic toolboxes, and other essential stationery items. Through this noble effort, the LOLC Group is committed to alleviating the financial burden faced by many families in providing school requirements of children and enabling students to focus on their studies wholeheartedly.

The initial phase of the project achieved remarkable success, reaching all 1,390 schools with student populations ranging from 1 to 50, covering every corner of the island. Now, as Divi Saviya, enters its second phase, it aspires to make an even more significant impact by extending its reach to 1,512 schools with student populations ranging from 51 to 100.

Over a course of five months, the project aims to distribute an impressive 108,731 packages of school supplies, spanning across all 25 districts of Sri Lanka, with a total investment of Rs. 1.5 Billion

Sri Lankan Leopard Conservation

The Sri Lankan leopard (Panthera pardus kotiya) is the largest of the four wild cat species found in Sri Lanka, and the apex mammalian predator on the island. It is believed that there are less than 1000 leopards roaming in the wild within the island. Further, the leopard is threatened globally by habitat loss and illegal wildlife trade, while in the human-dominated land-use areas in Sri Lanka.

In addressing this knowledge gap, LOLC Holdings PLC partnered with Wildlife and Nature Protection Society (WNPS) for a 05 year project to establish a network of specialised leopard conservation locations and research centers across identified geographically important areas, within Sri Lanka.

In the initial phase, six research stations will be set up in identified locations across Okanda or Panama, Morningside, Killinochchi, Belihuloya, Maskeliya or Nallathaniya, Sigiriya or Ritigala. The Project will monitor the presence of leopards in selected geographical areas, using camera traps and surveys. The Research Centres will liaise with local wildlife and forest officers, and also serve as educational hubs to generate awareness amongst the local communities, including knowledge dissemination and generating research-based human-leopard conflict mitigation measures.

The Project will provide a critical context for the management and conservation of the Sri Lankan leopard, currently listed as Vulnerable on the IUCN Red List. Recent research has shown that leopard habitat suitability in Sri Lanka is heavily influenced by forest cover, patch size, connectivity, and the level of protection of the landscape, a critical requirement to conserve the island's biodiversity.

Reforestation and eco system restoration project

Endowed with a diverse range of forest eco-systems, Sri Lanka is inherent of different topographic, climatic, bio diversities found around the country. However, the recent environmental reports signal a rapid increase of deforestation in Sri Lankan forests and a degradation of the entire eco system. The reports further identify that the catalysts of deforestation drives are mostly socio-economic in nature, and varies from land encroachment, development projects to expansion ventures.

With a sound understanding on the commitment required, LOLC Finance PLC, the largest Non-Banking Financial Institution (NBFI) of the country, recently entered in to an agreement with Mathurata Plantations and Vibhawa Solutions Private Limited, to concentrate on replanting endangered and endogenous species in degraded natural forests and private lands to support the reforestation efforts to enrich the natural order.

The core target of this project is to plant 20,000 trees ranging from 12,000 fruit plantations, medicinal herb plantations to few other selected native plants. The venture will be entirely funded by LOLC Finance, whereas the planting undertaking will be handled by 'Thuru', under Vibhawa Solutions.
